Who Are They?

The chief of police is in receipt of a letter from Chief Speers of the Kansas City force informing him of the arrest there of a thief, having in his possession a span of gray half Norman horses about sixteen hands high, hitched with a buggy. On the plate on the back of the vehicle is engraved the name of Henshaw & Co., St. Joseph, Mo. It is thought that the horses were stolen across the river near Council Bluffs.

Omaha Abroad.

Robert Green and wife have returned from a month's visit to their old home in Peoria. Mr. Greene says that everybody over there knows about Omaha, and talks of it as one of the marvelous cities of the time. "If they could see the progress we've made, as compared with their own, in buildings and other matters, I tell you they'd think a great deal more of us, although they now have a very big opinion," said Mr. Greene, "and maybe I didn't help them to inflate it."

Formed a Flambeau Club.

Last night a number of democrats met in Turner Hall, Tenth street, and completed the organization of the Omaha Democratic Flambeau club. After discussing election matters generally, and selecting the uniforms to be worn by the club in its parades, the following officers were elected: President, Charles Connelly; secretary, Ed. Rothory; treasurer, Doc Tanner, and captain, A. H. Forbes. The captain then appointed R. C. Clancy as lieutenant, and the club adjourned to meet again next Monday evening.

Needs His Parents.

Eddie Chambers, a boy of ten years, was arrested yesterday for using vile language to a little girl named Cecelia Connelly. The boy's mother lives at Atchison but she sent him here to work for Tom Murray. A few weeks ago Tom disappeared with a buggy. On the plate on the back of the vehicle is engraved the name of Henshaw & Co., St. Joseph, Mo. It is thought that the horses were stolen across the river near Council Bluffs.

Blasted to Death.

Forten years Amos Anderson, a colored man, could be seen at work daily in the Union elevator, Eleventh street, but about a year ago he decided to go west. He found employment in the Washington mine at Idaho Springs, and on the morning of Friday, when the premature discharge of a blast killed him in instantly. A telegram has been received by his late employers announcing the fact, and stating that he had left some property that should be looked after, and one of his former friends will accordingly go to the mines. In the meantime, he has left a wife and two children living on Seventeenth street, and as they are in very straitened circumstances, his friends have taken the matter up, and will assist them to tide over present difficulties.

The Father Caught Also.

The Box of a few days ago published an account of the desertion of his family by a man named Oleson, who had lived near the northwest corner of the 16th and Grand. His wife with a family of three children were left in destitution, and all of them were attacked with typhoid fever. The county came to their assistance, and supplied them with food and medicine and, at the same time, paid their rent. One of the children was but one week old. Since the publication Oleson has returned, and like the people whom he deserted, has become a victim to the fever. He is now in no dangerous a condition that there are few hopes of his recovery, and to-day he will be removed to the county poor house.

NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS.

The honor conferred On a Friend of Omaha.

The Associated press reports yesterday announced the nomination of Hon. Thomas H. Greedy, of Altoona, by the democrats of the twentieth congressional district of Pennsylvania. This district is the second largest iron manufacturing district in the United States. It is a very populous one and supposed to be a veritable stronghold of the protectionists. The distinguished young lawyer and jurist is reported to have taken the nomination at the solicitation of the national executive committee, backed up by a request from the president. Mr. Greedy is a brother of the transfer passenger agent of the Union Pacific at this terminus of the road, and has many personal friends in this city who would be very much pleased to see him elected to a seat in the American congress. He is interested in Omaha real estate, and makes frequent trips to this city.

YARDMASTER SUCCESSION.

The Changes Just Made by the Union Pacific.

Wednesday night the Union Pacific resigned his position as the Union Pacific at the Tenth street yards, and was succeeded by his assistant, H. Stalder, who is an old-time employee of the company. The position of assistant yardmaster is one that carries with it a great amount of responsibility without a corresponding amount of salary, and none of the yard switchmen cared about the office. One of the conductors, recently laid off, was accordingly tendered the place, but as he was a member of the Order of Railway Conductors instead of the Switchmen's union, the latter declined to serve him, and he was accordingly stepped down and out. It is said that the action of the conductors during the first stages of the Burlington strike had a great deal to do with last night's action. As yet, the vacancy has not been filled.

"No, we have not received any circulars from the company saying that our wages are to be reduced," said B. & M. employee yesterday, "and I don't think we will. Another strike would be disastrous to the company, because they have picked up every available man outside of the brotherhood now, and if we struck they could only fill our places by surrendering to the men they have fought so long to keep out. There is anything in it, and on the other hand I have heard there will be an advance in the pay of the switchmen."

Yesterday the B. & M. flier came nearly making the mile-a-minute record for the run from Lincoln to Omaha. It arrived at the latter place two hours and five minutes after leaving the former, and then ran fifty-four miles in sixty-seven minutes, leaving Lincoln at 4:40 and reaching here at 5:47. This included five stops in the run. The train consisted of four coaches, was in charge of Conductor Hall and drawn by engine 102.

Yardmaster Hays, of the Burlington, has gone on a two weeks vacation.

NO MORE A DISTILLERY.

The Nebraska City Still Becomes a Malt House.

Deputy Collector S. C. Calhoun has returned from Nebraska City, where he has been arranging affairs with the Nebraska Distilling company for the opening of their malt houses. By the change the institution has ceased to be a bonded distillery. It has disconnected all pipes from the stills, the signs have been taken down and the firm has registered with the government officials that its stills are not for use.

This change was made to enable connections to be made with the boilers for the purpose of furnishing steam for the malt houses for the operating of them during the coming year.

REMEMBER THE HERO.

Custer Post Adopts Resolutions to Sheridan's Memory.

The committee appointed to draft and report memorial resolutions on the death of General P. H. Sheridan, by Custer Post, No. 7, of this city, consisting of Frank E. Moore, D. A. Hurley and Edmund Bartlett have reported as follows:

WHEREAS, The fleeting hours have borne another distinguished comrade through the gates of death and over the dark river, and brought shadow and sadness, and mourning to every member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and have extinguished another of our great lights, which has disappeared from our vision like a guiding star, and a fine shot down, widening the void that in a few years more will be completed by the exit from life of the last of those iron men who braved the battle's storm of fire and "rallied round the flag" for the suppression of the great rebellion, the love we bore the dead hero, the homage due his exalted genius, our reverence for his sterling worth which grew spontaneous in the heart of every soldier, constrain us to give formal expression to our regard by the adoption of appropriate resolutions; therefore,

Resolved, That we will emulate the loyalty and patriotism of our great commander, and do all that within us lies to perpetuate his many virtues, as one of the grandest of the military chieftains of history. Great under all circumstances demanding greatness, whether viewing the battlefields of the old world and commanding the respect and admiration of its ablest generals, or riding from Winchester to save his army from rout and sore disaster; whether in camp when the sound of conflict had passed, or riding in the whirlwind of battle and directing its storm, he was ever the same splendid specimen of manhood, quiet and unassuming in his intercourse with society; fiercer than the lion in battle with his enemy, yet so kind and genial as a brother to his soldiers and his friends.

Resolved, That in our Memorial day observances we will give to the memory of our great commander, more than the usual thought and devote an extra garland to his memory.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of our post and copies furnished our city papers for publication, as a testimony of esteem for the memory of our distinguished comrade, the brilliant, chivalrous, heroic, honest, genial and loyal Phil. Sheridan.

ROTHOLZ ROLL.

It is Now Claimed by a Lady in St. Joe.

An owner has finally been found for the Rotholz roll of money that Bennett has been trying to get possession of. Mrs. Christine Langen, living at 829 Julia street, St. Joe, was robbed on the 4th inst., by a man in every way answering the description of Rotholz. She describes the robber as a man of about twenty-six years, about five feet six inches in height, with light brown hair, blue eyes, sickly small yellow mustache, with two upper teeth set heavily with gold filling, and having slender white hands. He was clad in shabby blue suit. This is a picture of Rotholz. Mrs. Langen was robbed of over $800 in money, mostly in $10 and $20 bills, with some $5 bills; small silver watch with short gold chain; having ball pendant held by bird's claw; over $5,000 in checks, notes and receipts; a camera ring with settings and the end is erroneous. The reverse is true. It is growing better, decidedly. The entertainment last night was in all respects far superior to those of the first week of this magnificent spectacle. The fireworks were better, the troop drill was better, the specialties as good, and the storming of the citadel the best. The cascade of fire was more

THE MILLS GRIND.

Several Burglars Convicted in the District Court Yesterday.

Judge Groff continued the trial of criminal cases in the district court yesterday.

Samuel Lowe, who entered a plea of guilty to the charge of procuring an abortion on Nina Darrab, was called for sentence. He had nothing to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed upon him. He was ordered to pay a fine of $500. Lowe promptly paid the fine and costs, amounting to $523, and was discharged.

John Riley and William Murphy were then arraigned for the burglary of Simon Metzner's shop on South Tenth street. Both entered a plea of not guilty. When called for trial, Riley asked the privilege to withdraw his plea of not guilty, and entered a plea of guilty. The trial of Murphy was then begun. The only evidence the state was able to produce was that he was standing on the sidewalk in front of the store, contemplating with his back to the window that Riley had broken out to enter the building, and when the police were brutally pounding Riley, when they were coming to arrest him, he asked them to not pound him any more. This testimony was all given by the policeman. The defense showed Murphy's testimony that Murphy had nothing to do with the burglary and did not know Riley was in the store at the time. The jury, however, found Murphy guilty.

The case of John McGrath was taken up. He was charged with burglary. He had entered the room of Jack Woods, and Joseph Lowe, at 1713 Douglas street, and was arrested while escaping. The jury gave a verdict of guilty.

The Omaha Lumber company has begun suit against George F. Withers to collect a bill for $422.85 for lumber furnished for the erection of a house on the defendant's property.

Thomas White will be tried this morning on the charge of burglary.

County Court.

Judges Hopewell and Doane.

Court Reporter Hopkins, who is located at Blair with Judge Hopewell, is in the city. He will remain during the week. The judge has gone to Tekamah, where he addresses a meeting of the agricultural society of Bart county.

Judge Doane is holding court in Blair with Judge Hopewell. The docket is very light, and the cases on it will probably be disposed of by the last of next week, when the two judges will return to this bench.

A Hint to Puffy People.

From their arrival on this planet to their usually early departure from it, people of weak constitutions and angular physiques pass a sort of half existence. Like dormice, they burrow in their home retreats, afraid of heat, afraid of cold, constantly afraid that the shadow of that dread reaper will materialize and exact the forfeit which he demands from all, sooner or later. No finer medicinal assurance of comparative vigor for the feeble exists than that afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a tonic, a restorative, a purifier, a blood purifier, a general and professionally compounded tonic will do much toward infusing strength into a puny system, and rousing of scrawny angles in the human figure. Appetite, nerve tranquility, nightly repose are encouraged by it, and a malarial, rheumatic, bilious tendency overcome. It re-establishes digestion and prevents kidney troubles.

MAYNE'S SEAT.

Who Will Fill It in the Public Works' Board?

It was rumored last evening that Mayor Broach contemplated nominating Mr. L. M. Bennett, of the fire and police commission, as the successor of Mr. C. E. Mayne on the board of public works.

In discussing the matter Councilmen Lowry and Snyder said that if the mayor will nominate Mr. Heimrod to succeed himself and then name a good man for Mr. Mayne's place the council will confirm the two gentlemen without ado.

"Mr. Heimrod is a good man for the place and has the advantage of his experience," said Mr. Lowry. "A majority of the councilmen are in favor of keeping him there, and the mayor can't get him out. That's settled."

Mr. Bennett was seen and stated that he had not sought the nomination. He had been spoken to by a friend who had told him that he believed if he desired the place he thought that he could be both nominated and confirmed. Mr. Bennett said that he would not apply for the place. If the mayor should see fit to nominate and the council confirm him he would be pleased to act as a member of the board. He would act for no other reason than that the position was an important one and should be filled by a person who knew of the interests involved and who was willing to give some attention to our regard by the adoption of appropriate resolutions; and if he (the speaker) were a member of the board, he would endeavor to do his best to afford the required assistance. Later, Mr. Bennett had met his informant in company with the mayor, and to the latter he had expressed himself as above referred to, irrespective of his lack of confidence, which he did not think would in any way injure him. There seems to be a good reason to believe that Mr. Bennett will be nominated.

GOING TO AURORA.

The Return of a Fugitive Charged With Crime.

Sheriff W. W. Shenberger, of Aurora, Hamilton county, was in the city Wednesday night on his way home from Marshalltown, Ia.

He was called to Iowa to identify a man arrested by the authorities there and supposed to be James Hickman, who is wanted in Aurora for attempting to commit a rape on a young girl named Anna Lechardt.

The man proved to be Hickman, and was placed in the jail here for safe keeping, and was taken on yesterday to Aurora.

The crime for which Hickman was arrested was committed the 20th of last May. He was assisted in the vile deed by John McIntosh and Thelma Gorman. The latter were arrested at the time and have been held in jail. Hickman made good his escape and has succeeded in eluding the officers until this week.

The Lechardt girl is about fourteen years old and is claimed of doubtful reputation. Hickman is a boy about twenty years old and a stout young fellow. There were threats at the time of lynching the man. They will all be tried next week.

Rhea. Seats for the Rhea engagement a Boyd's opera house went on sale yesterday, and the number already taken gives evidence that the performance will be most liberally patronized. Milo Rhea will open tonight in the character of Adrienne in "The Adrienne Lecouvreur." Saturday matinee, Hester Graebrook in "An Unequal Match," and Saturday night, Beatrice, in "Much Ado About Nothing."

Sebastopol. The idea that the performance of the Siege of Sebastopol would deteriorate as the season neared the end is erroneous. The reverse is true. It is growing better, decidedly. The entertainment last night was in all respects far superior to those of the first week of this magnificent spectacle. The fireworks were better, the troop drill was better, the specialties as good, and the storming of the citadel the best. The cascade of fire was more beautiful, as was every set piece of fireworks. With the perfect weather the crowds will be augmented throughout the week. This evening a number of special features will be introduced. All children will be admitted free this evening.

Food makes Blood and Blood makes Beauty. Improper digestion of food necessarily produces bad blood, resulting in a feeling of fullness in the stomach, acidity, heartburn, sick headache, and other dyspeptic symptoms. A closely confined life causes indigestion, constipation, biliousness and loss of appetite. To remove these troubles there is no remedy equal to Pielich's Fish Bitters. It has been tried and proven to be a specific.

An Omaha Market House.

OMAHA, Sept. 20.—To the Editor of THE BEE: "Potatoes bring thirty cents a bushel at Davenport and onions twenty-five cents at Davenport."

I clip the above from your columns, and then ask why we have not yet here in Omaha eighty cents and $1.00 for the same articles? Cannot these vegetables be brought to Omaha and sold to consumers much cheaper than at present and with profit to the sellers? I know they can, and if we had a market house, having in Omaha would be one-third cheaper. A year ago sweet potatoes went for 10c in Glenwood, Ia.—there was no market. In Omaha they were retailed at five cents a pound. If there had been a market house in Omaha—

Again a market house, cheaper living is a necessity to OMAHA.
